

Health Screening

Keeping fit and healthy is vital if we are to enjoy life to the full. Regular exercise, a balanced diet and screening are all ways of helping to safeguard our health throughout our lives. For most people, screening reassures them that they are in good health, but for a minority it can uncover potentially serious illness in its early stages.

Health screening also allows you to talk about health concerns in complete confidentiality; routine results are not passed on to your GP but should anything serious be found the clinic will write to your doctor once it has your permission.
